

TARGET DETERMINATION

Make one roll to determine the Target Type. Then roll on the relevant Location table (by year/month) to determine the location of the target using the appropriate target type.

If using the Enhanced Fighter Cover Tables (posted on BGG, and highly recommended to be used in conjunction with these tables), any Zone which has one or more "NA / E" annotations treats Zone 5 as getting the same fighter cover as Zones 2-4.

There are several tables to use in June 1944, to account for the different target locations before and after the invasion, including when the Eighth Air Force was release from tactical support and returned to strategic missions. 6th June includes both the initial mission and a supplementary table for those later in the day. No reason to bomb the beaches after dawn on 6th June!

* If you are fit to fly on Jun 6th then you will fly on the first mission. Use 6 Jun Invasion locations table.

New Mission Type

Supply Drop	Treat as a normal mission except that you are carrying supplies for friendly forces. There may be less or no flak over the target, according to the notes on the specific target. Ignore any bomb detonation results.

Notes

Some of the primary target types have additional detail, as follows:

Target Type	Sub-Categories	Notes / Examples
Docks	Shipyard	Construction and repair both for surface ships and submarines.
	U Boat Pens	Thick concrete structures protecting U boats.
	Port	Warehouses, power and pumping facilities, wharves, cranes etc. Includes attacks on shipping using the port, or lying up in anchorages nearby (unless specifically targeted).
	Shipping	Shipping moored in river estuaries.
	Naval Base	Including bases for U Boats that didn't have pens (attacked with 500lb bombs as opposed to 2000lb bombs used on the normal U Boat Pens). Also includes attacks on naval units in the bases.
Industrial Area	General	Instruments, Power Station, Mining, Steelworks, Unknown or generic "city centre".
	Ball Bearing Factory	Schweinfurt, and others.
	Chemical Plants	Chemicals, Rubber, Ammonia, Nitrate etc plants.
	Ordnance	Inc Explosives and Armaments factories; Research facilities.
	Railway Works	Locomotive and wagon factories.
	Vehicles	Tanks, AFV, Truck factories.
Oil Installation	Refinery	Oil refineries and synthetic oil plants, including Coking and Benzol facilities.
	Storage Facility	Oil Tank farm, underground oil storage, Oil Depots.
Tactical Target	Bridge	Rail / Road Bridges, Viaduct, Aqueduct.
	Coastal Batteries	Coastal batteries and defences; Gun Emplacements.
	Defended Localities	Strongpoints, defence works, fortified areas.
	Ground Support	Direct support of troops, tactical fortifications, field artillery batteries.
	Logistics	Supply Dump, Ammo Dump, Fuel Dump, HQ, Barracks, Tank Depot.
	Transport Hub	Communications Centre, Choke Point, Railroad Junction, Road Junction, Railroad Station, Canal, Ferry, Causeway.

Note that Aircraft Factories include component and assembly plants, aero engine facilities, repair depots etc. Most Aircraft Factories had an attached airstrip or airfield, but are not treated as an Airfield unless there were Luftwaffe units stationed there and the reason for the attack was specifically on the airfield facilities or units.

Some stations (eg Friedrichstrasse Station in Berlin) are treated as Marshalling Yards as their size is equivalent to a Marshalling Yard and that was the rationale for attacking them. A Transport Hub was a much smaller, tactical target.

I have listed the name of an airfield where it had a specific name (for example Munster - Handorf) as these are quite evocative.

JUNE 6th 1944 SPECIAL RULES

Initial Mission	If you are fit to fly on Jun 6th then you will fly on the first mission. Use 6 Jun Invasion locations table.
Accuracy	Targets at Gold/Juno/Sword/Omaha have a significant detrimental modifier to their accuracy. This is to reflect the instructions not to bomb short on the approaching troops. Medium bombers at Utah beach approached along the line of the beach, and did not suffer this effect; neither did the attack on choke points at Caen. On the initial mission, apply a -5 accuracy modifier to all bombing (except at Caen), or a +5 if using the Revised Bomb Run procedures (posted on BGG).
Subsequent Mission(s)	After any initial mission, roll a D10; on a roll of 4-10 you get to fly one more mission on D-Day. Roll on the 6 Jun Supplementary location table (these were the targets bombed in the later morning/afternoon/evening missions).
Escort	On the initial mission, all Fighter Cover is Good for the whole mission. On any subsequent missions, improve the level of Fighter Cover rolled by one level, up to a maximum of Good.
Secondary Targets	On the initial mission you will not attempt a second run on the target nor divert to a Secondary or Target of Opportunity. If you do not correctly identify the target on the first run, you do not release your bombs and return to base. This is to reflect the orders in place that were designed to stop bomb groups wandering about over France in search of other targets and the collision risk that it would entail - all Bomb Groups had one chance to hit their target and then flew the prescribed route home.
